

About the Course

This modular course is held in English and it's a FULL TIME study program (one academic year), with the initial phase in Freiburg (9 months) and the subsequent field study for the Master thesis which can be done abroad or as a desk study in Freiburg. The course has an interdisciplinary approach with inputs from several faculties of the University of Freiburg and external experts. The Master belongs to the Medical Faculty and is organized by the Centre for Medicine and Society. The program includes excursions to Geneva and Basel (Switzerland), Colmar (France) and other places of interest, such as the greenest European district, Vauban. Freiburg is currently considered the third best travel destination in the world!

Topic Areas

The MSc in Global Urban Health is organized through an interdisciplinary effort covering different topic areas in relation to urban health needs, including:

- Research Methods and Analysis Tools (Epidemiology, Statistics, Social Sciences, Economics, Geography, and Anthropology)
- Communicable Diseases and Quality Assured programmes Environmental Management & Control of Non-Communicable Diseases
- Migration, Violence and Mental Health.

At a glance

Diploma

Master of Science, MSc

Study Location

University of Freiburg, Germany
Field study in country of choice

Duration

One year (60 ECTS)

Start of Studies

September 26th, 2022

Application

Open, until April 15th, 2022

For more information:

https://www.zmg.uni-freiburg.de/mscguh@zmg.uni-freiburg.de

